DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 20, 21, 23-42, 44, 47, drawn to an applicator having an insulating cap and insulating member which cooperate to limit a path of displacement relative to a supply pipe.

Group II, claim(s) 48 and 49, drawn to an applicator wherein the sole means of conducting a current to the cutting electrode from a gas and high frequency terminal is the electrically conductive material of the supply pipe.

Group III, claim(s) 50 and 51, drawn to an applicator wherein an end of the supply pipe forms a part of a gas and high frequency current terminal configured for attachment to an external gas and high frequency supply.

The inventions listed as Groups I and II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Group I requires an insulating cap and insulating member which cooperate to limit a path of displacement relative to a supply pipe, but Group II does not. Group II requires the electrically conductive material of the supply pipe to be the sole means of conducting a current from the gas and high frequency terminal to the cutting electrode, but Group I does not.

The inventions listed as Groups I and III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Group I requires an insulating cap and insulating member which cooperate to limit a path of displacement relative to a supply pipe, but Group III does not. Group III requires an end of the supply pipe forming a part of a gas and high frequency current terminal configured for attachment to an external gas and high frequency supply, but Group I does not.

The inventions listed as Groups II and III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Group II requires the electrically conductive material of the supply pipe to be the sole means of conducting a current from the gas and high frequency terminal to the cutting electrode, but Group III does not. Group III requires an end of the supply pipe forming a part of a gas and high frequency current terminal configured for attachment to an external gas and high frequency supply, but Group II does not.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
